

Rationale for the expansion of Coast Academies

We need to be convinced that the points outlined below will improve the education of the young people in our care

“The most successful trusts are the ones who encourage collaboration between schools – but in order to do this effectively, the schools must consistently share the same vision for education” Sir David Carter 13th March 2018

Our belief is that our pupils will benefit most from a trust with a critical mass of around 3000 young people. There are currently 1317 pupils on roll within Coast Academies.
